MARVELOUS MUD ROOMS

The back entrance, a corner of the garage, a sunny transition room (breezeway) between house and garage, or a back porch – wherever you can find the space – is a perfect place for a mud room. Or maybe mud-room is a misnomer! How about a dressing room for pool users? Or a potting room for the home gardener? Whatever you decide to call it, include these things in yours:

- Seating for removing and putting on rainwear or boots, or to stash pool supplies. (Create it from 18” high wall cabinets or use deep drawers set on furniture feet!)
- Wall hooks or pegs for outerwear, umbrellas, hats or fishing equipment
- Some yard tools could be stored in your mud room, too!
- Include tile floors for easiest clean-up and greatest durability
- Is there room for a pedestal sink or a deep utility sink? What a convenience!

Do you have a nook or cranny you can turn into a mud room? Let your Floor To Ceiling® design specialist show you how built-in cabinetry can play an important part for functional as well as durable storage with style!
